Hope & Courage in China and Beyond

Speaker: Randy Gallaway, Executive Director Partners in Development Worldwide

Date: Wednesday, September 21, 2011

Time: 12:00 noon CT

Location: ACB 120

Partners in Development Worldwide (PIDW) is a faith-based non-profit organization whose work includes organizing international services to meet the social, emotional, educational, humanitarian, and spiritual needs of people around the world.

Three days after the May 2008 earthquake in China, PIDW was on the ground working to help negotiate coordinated relief efforts. The organization provided suicide prevention and grief counseling training to teachers, counselors, and professors enabling them to spot and treat the effects of depression and grief prevalent during the aftermath of the earthquake.

Mr. Gallaway will share stories of courage and appreciation from earthquake survivors. He will also share how his own near-death, life-altering physical injury informs his service to others.
