

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES FILM SERIES

FEATURING

SAVING FACE

Every year, hundreds of people are attacked with acid in Pakistan. The vast majority of the victims are women, who are left physically and emotionally scarred. Saving Face follows two of these survivors—Sakia and Rukhsana—as they fight for justice and seek to restore their lives. Aiding them are London-based surgeon Dr. Mohammad Jawad as well as a host of Pakistanis standing up to these brutal crimes, with surprising results.

While this film is inspiring, please be aware the content can be difficult to watch if you chose to attend the film screening.
