CONFERENCE OVERVIEW AND TARGET AUDIENCE:

This symposium, designed for obstetricians, gynecologists, family and general practice physicians, residents, physician extenders, registered nurses, and other interested health practitioners, will increase practitioner knowledge, competence, and skills in clinical diagnoses, treatment options, and new technologies in obstetrics and gynecology.

OBJECTIVES

Following the activity, the participant should be able to:

- Review outcomes from treatment of urinary incontinence
- Recognize new diagnosis and treatment of preeclampsia
- Plan for new options under the Affordable Care Act
- Review information about the future of Women's Health
- Review existing limitations of fetal monitoring and introduce fetal cardiac monitoring
- Recognize existing barriers when using oral contraceptives
- Identify the benefits of Centering Pregnancy
- Recognize the use of the menstrual cycle as an important sign of health and well being
- Examine the state of family planning access in Texas and the nation
- Recognize that the menstrual cycle is a powerful tool in recognizing deviations from normal pubertal development

CME ACCREDITATION AND DESIGNATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint providership of Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center at El Paso, and University Medical Center of El Paso.
